

Governance and Policy Administration

Effective August 31, 2026 • Applies to the 2027 season and until replaced

These policies establish the financial, conduct, complaint-resolution, conflict-of-interest and discipline standards of Titans Volleyball Club (the Club). They apply to athletes, parents and guardians, coaches, staff, volunteers, directors, contractors and other participants acting on behalf of or participating in the Club.

The Club agrees to uphold the Volleyball BC Code of Conduct and Ethics and all other applicable Volleyball BC and Volleyball Canada policies used to govern the sport. These Club policies supplement those requirements. If a Club policy conflicts with an applicable governing-body policy or law, the governing-body policy or law will prevail.

Public availability. The current version of these Club policies will be published on the Club's official website or, if the website is temporarily unavailable, on the Club's main communications channel.

Administration Publication and Review

- The Club Director is responsible for maintaining, publishing and administering these Club policies, subject to Volleyball BC policies and applicable law.
- The current policy collection will be available on the Titans Volleyball Club website or the Club's main communications channel.
- Participants will be told where to access the policies before or during registration and whenever a material revision is made.
- The Club will review these policies at least annually and may revise them to reflect governing-body changes, legal requirements or operational lessons.
- The Club may create team-specific expectations that are consistent with these Club policies and Volleyball BC policies.

Questions about these Club policies may be directed to Jarrett Potskin, Club Director, at pgtitansvolleyball@gmail.com.
